

With creatine and panthenol.

Menalind® professional.

The early preventive care system for mature skin.

The more skin matures, the more care it requires. This applies particularly to care-dependent elderly people whose skin can become very stressed due to incontinence and bed confinement. So put elderly skin care in professional hands as early as possible: the Menalind professional early preventive skin care system. Vitalising creatine and moisturising panthenol support the skin's natural functions and help maintain the health of stressed or irritated elderly skin. All products have been dermatologically tested for tolerability on sensitive skin.
